The Pinery Architectural Review Committee

ARC Candidate Bios

John Grissom - Incumbent:

John moved into the Pinery in 2008 after building his home. John is a general contractor with 17 years of experience in remodeling, new construction and insurance exterior restoration projects. He truly enjoyed building his house from the design and staking of the ground all of the way through the interior finishes. He loves the way that homes are integrated into the surroundings of the Pinery, has enjoyed serving on the Architectural Review Committee and would like to continue.

Raymond Guth - Incumbent:

As a seven-year-old boy in 1957, Raymond visited cousins in Colorado Springs and was overwhelmed by the beauty of the mountains. His heart has been in Colorado ever since. It took quite a while, but he was able to physically move to Fort Collins in 1973 after a 5-year stint in the US Navy. Raymond and his family moved into their first Pinery home in 1987 and to their current home in 1991.

Raymond's qualifications begin as a college student. Summers and weekends were filled with working for various contractors framing houses, installing plumbing and electrical lines, pouring concrete, building fences and walls. As a homeowner in the Pinery, he has continued with those chores, installing hardwood and tile floors, replacing roofs, painting his home, replacing a retaining wall with large decorative bricks, and terracing an ugly dirt berm into a beautiful flower garden.

His experience in construction and background in IT system analysis as a project manager helps him to keep projects organized for optimal completion. This training and experience enables Raymond to follow and implement the rules as managed by the ARC. Doing so is paramount to maintaining the beauty of the Pinery. This is our community. Together we can keep it the best.

It has been a distinct privilege for Raymond to be of service to his community and neighbors, a privilege he would like to continue.

James R. Murray: As a Pinery resident for almost 16 years, and an independent contractor Jim is interested in further service to the community as a member of the Architectural committee. With over 30 years of construction experience and having served as a member of the Saddlebrook Farms ARC for two years he believes he is very qualified for this position because of his understanding of Douglas County Building codes and the Pinery HOA expectations.

Kenda Newman: Information for Kenda Newman was not available at press time. It will be available in the PHA office upon receipt.

Ben Osborn: After five years of visiting friends who live in the Pinery and desiring that lifestyle, Ben Osborn, his wife Amy and their dog Guinness bought their perfect home in July of 2015. They all spend time enjoying hikes and riding bikes through the neighborhood. Improving their home and landscaping on the beautiful lot on which they live is also where they enjoy spending quality time.

Ben has lived in Parker for over 11 years and is a residential Realtor based out of Downtown Parker where he enjoys building relationships with town officials and small businesses. He enjoyed a decade long, successful career as a Land Surveyor in Colorado and worked primarily in residential land development, including work on some earlier filings within The Pinery.

Ben has been looking for an opportunity to donate time back to this community and he would like to apply his experience as a Project Manager and as a Realtor to help maintain what he and Amy love about this neighborhood - the natural beauty, uninterrupted mountain views and the mountain neighborhood feel.

Lori Ridder: Information for Lori Ridder was not available at press time. It will be available in the PHA office upon receipt.

It's a Great Day to Mitigate, Together

By Einar Jensen, Community Risk Reduction Specialist South Metro Fire Rescue

Every day is a great day to prepare for wildfire, but it can be difficult to stay motivated when you're the only one trimming or raking. Because risk reduction is more meaningful when we combine efforts, South Metro Fire Rescue invites our neighbors in The Pinery to participate in Wildfire Community Preparedness Day on May 7.

The National Fire Protection Association and Fire Adapted Communities created Wildfire Community Preparedness Day. It's the perfect time to spend a few hours working together as a family or with neighbors to prune vegetation, clean gutters, rake dead leaves and needles, and create your family's neighborhood evacuation plan.

Your actions will help reduce your community's wildfire risk and improve your family's safety. Your actions will improve the safety for our family of emergency responders, too.

Challenge your friends, your family, relatives, faith-based group or youth organization to develop a project and join others throughout the nation in making big changes. In advance of May 7, contact SMFR for a free home wildfire assessment at ReducingRisk@southmetro.org.

Additionally, SMFR and The Pinery Homeowners Association partnered to create a neighborhood mitigation plan. Members of the wildfire mitigation committee are developing a list of projects to reduce the wildfire risk in the community.

Proposed Xcel Power Line Project

There are no updates at this time regarding the proposed Xcel power line project. The Town of Parker is currently considering the plans and we will communicate any new information as soon as it becomes available. Watch future newsletters and the PHA website, www.pinery.org for any updates.

Pinery Teens

Several residents have already called the PHA office asking if we have a list of those interested in doing lawn mowing. Just as with snow shoveling, they would prefer to pay a local young person rather than hire a company to do this. If you would like to be placed on our teen resource list for lawn mowing, please contact the PHA office at 303-841-8572.

The Year of the Pollinators - Saving Monarch Butterflies

Written by Joann Farrend

You may not have noticed but many people are promoting the support for pollinators in the garden. What are pollinators? Pollinators are bees, moths, flies, birds and butterflies or other animals that move pollen from flower to flower.¹ Pollinators are important for a successful garden and the creation of food. Pollinators help in the production of: apples, blueberries, chocolate, coffee, melon, peaches, vanilla and tequila.¹ The last few years have seen a decline in pollinators so there is a major movement to increase their populations. We are going to focus on one particular pollinator - monarch butterflies.

I remember growing up in Ohio and catching beautiful monarch butterflies during the summer. They are exquisite to see with their beautiful orange wings with black veins going from flower to flower. In recent years, the number of monarchs has dwindled which has been attributed to loss of habitat (mainly in Mexico) and the use of pesticides. Another factor is a decrease in a good food source - milkweed (Asclepias spp).

Courtesy of the High Country Gardens

For many years, milkweed flourished in the Midwest throughout cornfields and along roadsides. As the desire for corn and soy escalated, milkweed was deemed a noxious weed and has been eradicated from farmlands. As farmers wanted to improve the amount of crops produced, chemists invented Monsanto's Roundup and genetically modified crops. While the crops were created to withstand the treatment of Roundup the noxious weeds died off. No big deal, right? Well this has become a very big deal for the monarchs as milkweed is the ONLY plant that the larvae (caterpillars) will eat.

Monarchs migrate to Mexico every year for the winter months. As they travel north for the summer, they use milkweed as rest stops along the way. According to Shalene Hiller, horticulturist for the City of Westminster, Colorado, "they need as much help in as many spots as they can get²." As such, the City of Westminster and the Butterfly Pavilion are planting butterfly friendly gardens throughout the city with a focus on milkweed. Not only is milkweed a big food source for the monarchs, but it also produces a chemical that the larvae eat which makes the larvae and adults poisonous to their predators.

Buy the right milkweed. Not all milkweed is the same. Do not plant the tropical version of milkweed. Monarchs that live off the tropical species become infected with a protozoan parasite which causes them to die quicker.

One of my favorite garden catalogs - High Country Gardens - sells several varieties of milkweed as plants and seeds (<http://www.highcountrygardens.com>). Milkweed produces pink and orange flowers. Some varieties do well in dry climates which are perfect for our area. Also, you can check our local garden centers for milkweed plants as well.

(The Year of the Pollinators cont'd)

Key components of garden habitat for monarchs³:

Gardens should be planted in sunny spots, with some protection from the wind.

At least one milkweed species that is native to the area will provide food for monarch caterpillars.

A variety of nectar plants with staggered bloom times give butterflies and other pollinators a continuous food source. Include a combination of early, middle and late blooming species to fuel butterfly breeding and migration.

Herbicides and pesticides should be avoided, as they can hurt caterpillars and adults.

FYI - My term as President of the Black Forest Gardeners is coming to an end in June. This will be my last article for the PHA newsletter. It has been fun writing these articles and I hope that you found some useful information from them.

PHA Trash Program Enrollment Form

New form as of January 2016

If you are not in the Pinery Trash Program, you might want to consider joining with the over 1500 other participating homeowners. The program offers state of the art trash service including Single Stream Recycling. Recycling must be separated from your regular household trash, but the recycling center now separates the paper from the bottles, cans, etc. You may choose to use a container with wheels and a lid for ease of handling.

In addition, our program includes the removal of one Large or Bulk Item every month. Give Waste Management a call, set the item out with your regular household trash and say goodbye. What's the Scoop on Poop?

Dog feces are not only unsightly, they can contaminate stormwater run-off, ending up in our reservoirs, creeks and other water supplies. Feces release harmful amounts of nitrogen fertilizer to the soil, which may encourage the spread of noxious weeds.

Under Douglas County law, failure to clean up dog excrement on County-owned parks and open space may result in a fine of at least $50.

So please be responsible and clean up after your dog.
